Introduction

The South Washington/West of the River Family Strengthening Collaborative (SWWR) was established in 1997 to address the problems of child abuse and neglect in Ward 6, which is west of the Anacostia River, north of the Navy Yard, south of D Street, NE and east of North Capitol Street. Our Collaborative is comprised of more than 20 nonprofit service-providing agencies, most of which are located in the geographic boundaries noted above. We also have a number of public housing communities, scores of congregations, many small businesses, civic groups, and most of all, hundreds of dedicated residents who are committed to improving the lives of children, youth, and families. In addition to working closely with so many of the community-based organizations and individuals listed within this Directory, we have a solid and expanding relationship with the staff and leadership of the Child and Family Services Agency (CFSA). Our family support workers and social work staff work closely with CFSA's staff in an integrated service delivery system. We seek to prevent and reduce the incidence of child abuse and neglect by creating local networks of community-based and family-centered resources to support and promote the social, emotional, physical, spiritual, and economic growth and stability of our community's children, youth, and families. In addition to the partnership with CFSA, SWWR has working partnerships with the Community Partnership for the Prevention of Homelessness, Department of Mental Health, DC Children and Youth Investment Trust Corporation, DC Children's Trust Fund, DC Public Schools, Georgetown University Hospital/MedStar Health KIDS Mobile Medical Clinic, the DC Housing Authority, and many others.

Acknowledgements

Thank you to all South Washington/West of the River Family Strengthening Collaborative staff, volunteers, interns and partnering agencies who contributed to the preparation of our Resource Directory.

Although the best efforts have been made to make this inclusive of all services and organizations within the area served by SWWR, we realize some services may have been omitted. The listing of an organization does not imply approval or support by SWWR and the opposite is also true for those not included. SWWR has made every effort to assure the information provided in this directory is correct and current as of the publication date. If you would like to provide feedback and or information changes to the directory, please e-mail to Sharlyne Griffin, SWWR Program Assistant, at sgriffin@swwr.org.
Thanks for your support.

CBCC's mission is to "coordinate benefits for a caring community" by regularly engaging neighborhood organizational leaders to ensure that the major redevelopment of our area benefits all current residents and maintains a diverse community with improved quality of life for all. As of January 2010 the CBCC has submitted its application for non-profit, tax-exempt status. The top priorities are: 1) development of a community center including programs for workforce development; 2) maintaining and increasing the diversity of housing options for all income levels; 3) establishing a Community Fund for the ongoing support of programs; 4) Advocating for neighborhood/resident oriented retail and local small business opportunities.

The CBCC will have annual board elections seeking talented and dedicated leaders of organizations and entities in the near SE/SW neighborhood.
